

Dear Finra,

Please do not institute leverage limitations. I think this is a terrible idea as there are millions of traders worldwide that this would negatively affect. The forex market should be available to all of those that want to participate. Putting this into effect would further separate the upper class from the middle and lower classes again. Please consider leaving leverage as it is. Thank you.

Luke Arthur