

Please don't pull down the leverage. We all are against this proposal. Please.

Think about we people (retail) who're making this forex business a professional job. We have Loans to pay, family to support and feed. And only with small amount of capital, how are we going to live if the leverage is reduced? It's not really a problem for BIG boys but for us retail trader, it's a DISASTER.

Please reconsider.

Thanks.
