

To whom it may concern,

I would like to go on record as a tax-paying small investor who strongly opposes your new proposal for collection of data on brokerage accounts. I slowly see so many freedoms in this country being eroded in the name of customer protection, and I have grave concerns about that being furthered here. Please discontinue the proposal and let things stay the same.

Sincerely,
Stephanie Oates

Sent from my iPad